

L'il Angels Consignment Sale

~Consignor Q&A~

Q: What can be sold at the sale event?

A: We hold two sale events each year: Spring & Fall. Most infant, children and maternity items are accepted at both sales, clothing must be seasonally appropriate. We have a list of Juniors and Young Men's brands and sizes we will accept for sale within limits. We have updated Seasonal Inspection Guidelines for each sale to reference.

Q: What percentage of sales will consignors receive?

A: Our consignors receive 65% of their total sales. Consignors who volunteer over the sale weekend have the opportunity to receive 70%-75% of their total sales.

Q: Are there limits to the items that can be sent?

A: Our Inspection Guidelines reference limitations for clothing and shoes - how many items can be sent and what sizes are acceptable. All other items are unlimited.

Q: Is there a valet tagging service available?

A: Yes, our Guardian Angel Tagging Service is available to all registered consignors for an additional fee. Space is limited. If this service is a possible interest, please be sure to email us at tagging@lilangelsconsignment.com for availability.

Q: What happens to unsold items?

A: It is the consignor's choice if their unsold items are returned or donated at the end of the sale weekend. All returned unsold items must be picked up by the consignor on the SUNDAY of the sale event from 5pm-6pm. We have partnerships with several small local nonprofits who are able to pick up donations at the end of the sale if consignors choose to donate their unsold items. We find a place for everything donated and spread the love as far as we can within the local community!
